Madrid, March 13th 2020

In the light of the exceptional situation arising as a result of the Covid-19 risk which is affecting all of us globally, at RTS we have established a contingency plan with the main objective of taking appropriate action to protect our staff and network of collaborators while providing the highest possible level of service to our clients.

Even in this difficult period and within the constraints imposed by the circumstances, our entire network in Spain, Portugal and Latin America remains operational and continues to offer quality services to our clients through smart work practices such as teleworking.

We can safely carry out inspections, thanks to our expertise, software and technology, using the Remote Survey, equipped with the most innovative measurement, geo-location and recording systems, in compliance with the regulations in respect of privacy and data security.

Therefore, we will continue to offer a top-quality service, efficiently, and in safe conditions.
